SN: In the summer of 1967, Heard Museum Guild Spring Fair Chairman, Mrs. Ann Bergin, decided to add a juried art show to the annual Indian Fair. In 1968 Mrs. Iris Jackson, a Guild member, was responsible for organizing the first Indian Arts and Crafts Show. Preview for the First Heard Museum Guild Indian Arts and Crafts Show was held on April 5, 1968, in the West Gallery, and was held in conjunction with the 10th Annual Heard Museum Guild Indian Fair, April 6-7, 1968. In 1970 the Indian Arts and Crafts Exhibit was established as an annual fall event. The Heard Museum Guild 12th annual Indian Arts and Crafts Exhibit and Sale was held on November 21, 1979. The 13th annual Indian Arts and Crafts Exhibit was held Wednesday, November 26, 1980. In 1981 or 1982, Curator of Art Erin Younger sent out to artists an announcement that the annual Heard Museum Guild Indian Arts and Crafts Show has expanded to two exhibitions: 1) the Native American Arts Show which will be held in November; and 2) an annual Fine Arts Show which will be an invitational exhibition held in December 1982. In 1981 the exhibit was called the New Heard Museum Guild Crafts Exhibit and was held November 13-18, 1981. The last Indian Arts and Crafts Exhibit was held in 1984. Between March-May 1986, the Heard Museum had the exhibition "In the Spirit of Tradition: the Heard Museum Craft Arts Invitational"; it was organized by the Heard Museum staff and not part of the "Heard Museum Guild Indian Arts and Crafts Exhibition"; information on this show can be found in the Pamphlet Collection under "HEARD MUSEUM -- EXHIBITS 1986".

Native American Artists Resource Collection
SN: Compiled, organized and administered by the Billie Jane Baguley Library and Archives of the Heard Museum. The collection documents the artistic achievements of Native American artists. Includes biographical information on over 23,000 (as of 2005 June 15) traditional to contemporary Native American artists, performers and writers. A Native American artist is defined as an artists who is of American Indian descent; Native Americans comprise the aboriginal peoples of the Western Hemisphere, including the indigenous Arctic peoples of Greenland, Canada, Alaska, and adjacent regions of Siberia, namely, the Inuit and Eskimo. Artists that are included are both living and deceased. Artists are defined broadly and include painters, sculptors, weavers, potters, katsina doll carvers, print makers, novelists, poets, film makers, actors, and musicians; artists represented in the collection work in a wide variety of media and genres. Collected materials include business cards, journal and newspaper articles, resumes, artists statements, photographs, exhibition announcements and catalogs, research notes, correspondence, and interviews; collected material dates from various time periods with the bulk dating from the 1950s to the present (ongoing). Each file includes a data and index sheet which provides basic biographical information, a list of the artist's exhibitions, awards and prizes, and citations to published resources about the artist.
